

Persistence Theory Question

These Bayesian network graphs do not have any loops. How could we handle a person walking in a loop, meeting the same person several times?

A looping behaviour does not mean a looping graph - rather it means repeated node structure at later times in the graph.