Track Bounce Question

How might you correct the tracking failure that happens when the ball bounces?

The problem occurs because the falling ball model no longer applies at the time of the bounce. So we should change to a different behaviour model.