Conclusions Review Problem

What aspects of the recognition example used here were simplified?

What aspects were typical of more realistic problems?

ANSWER:

Simplifications: simple and easily discriminable shapes, clean highly contrasting background

Realistic: some subtle differences between 2 parts, a variety of properties, a distribution of property values, image noise and shadows