Multivariate Gaussian Distribution Problem

In the multivariate Gaussian distribution, what corresponds to the mean value and standard deviation of the one dimensional Normal (Gaussian) distribution? How does the multivariate case differ?