

2D Convolution Problem

What makes it possible to use convolution for both horizontal and vertical edge enhancement/detection?